Hungarian Flees Communists Finds New Life At Omaha U

By Ruth White

It has been a long way from the Hungarian revolt of 1956 to the Geography Department of Omaha University, but Assistant Professor Nicholas Bariss says that he is glad he made the trip.

When it became obvious that the Hungarian Revolt was a failure, Mr. Bariss and his wife packed all they could carry into one suitcase. Leaving family and possessions behind, they caught a train to the nearest border, hired a local guide to take them to Austria, and hiked in freezing weather over rugged terrain to freedom.

Although he left most of his possessions behind, Mr. Bariss brought with him his training and experience as an educator, a lecturer, and a writer. He attended the Technical University and the Eotvos Lorand University of Science, both in Budapest. He taught and lectured at the latter and wrote for Hungarian geographical publications.

After his arrival in America, he continued his studies at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., and is currently working toward a Ph.D. in geography.

Mr. Bariss says that the university student in America is not much different from his counterpart in Hungary. However, many American students have financial problems while Hungarian students face political problems.

Hungarian universities are operated by the state. Once a student is admitted his education is financed by the government. However, admission depends upon the political status of the student and his family.

Mr. Bariss cited the case of a former student who was denied admission to a university because his father had once been an independent business man.

"There are more possibilities here for students," said Mr. Bariss as he explained the Communist educational system under which the state decides upon a central plan. In Hungary, students must accept training in the field that has vacancies. "The most important difference is that Hungarian colleges and universities are more specialized, and students do not get the general education they receive here."

The Bariss family now includes Mr. and Mrs. Bariss, their 6-year-old daughter, Agnes, and Mr. Hideghethy, father of Mrs. Nicholas Bariss, who joined the family after their arrival in America.

Although he is 78 years old, Mr. Hideghethy, who speaks four languages, refuses to accept forced retirement. He reads for blind students at OU.

Mr. Bariss says he like the midwest and finds it much like Hungary.

Relax Today — Free Music

The University Concert Band will present its "relax before exams" concert at 11:30 this morning in the S.C. ballroom.

Featured in the concert will be a trumpet solo, clarinet duet and a trombone quartet along with a Dixieland group. The program will be over in time for classes and admission is free.

Summer Institute Recipient Of National Science Grant

Notices

Dean Don Pflasterer has issued a general reminder for all students. He stated that students should be sure to have all student loans, traffic fines and library fines paid up. If these are not paid the students will not be allowed to take their final exams. He noted that it costs $5.00 for each final exam taken late.

Anyone wishing to submit an application for the editorship of the 1965 TOMA-HAWK, please see Miss Jane Andersen, room 372B, Administration Building.

Dr. Merle Brooks Named As Director

President Milo Bail announced the receipt of a $75,100 federal grant this week. It will be used to conduct a National Science Foundation Summer Institute on the OU campus June 8 to Aug. 1.

Director of the institute will be Dr. Merle Brooks, professor of biology. He will be assisted by Dr. Robert Borgman, assistant professor of biology.

There will be an enrollment of 25 junior high and 30 high school science and math teachers in the program.

Undergraduate and graduate courses will be offered in botany, chemistry, math, physics and zoology. These are designed to aid instructors who are lacking hours in their teaching field.

Instructors for the summer institute will be chosen from the OU science faculty at a later date.

Visiting lecturers for the seminar in general science course include: Dr. Therald Mueller, University of Illinois, chemistry; Dr. James Crow, University of Wisconsin, genetics; Dr. Robert Pennak, University of Colorado, biology and Dr. Marsh White, Pennsylvania State, physics.

The NSFIS advisory committee included Dr. H. L. Hunzeker, head of the math department, Dr. Karl H. D. Busch, head of the biology department, Mr. John G. McMillan, head of the physics department and Dr. D. N. Marquardt, head of the chemistry department.

"These men worked very hard in obtaining the grant and in setting up the courses that will be offered," Dr. Brooks stated.

"The purpose of the summer institute is to upgrade the teaching of science and math in the junior and senior high schools," he said.

Dr. Clark to Critique Broadway's Finest

OU Theater Director Dr. Edwin Clark will present a special half-hour show on KETV this Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

He will discuss his recent tour of New York theaters and criticize and comment on Broadway's top plays including "110 in the product Miss Inga Swensen.

Dr. Clark will also give critiques of "Luther", "The Ballad of the Sad Cafe" and "Here's Love".

Dr. Clark makes a trip to New York each year to see as many new plays as possible and to make arrangements for Omaha University Theater productions.

The show is a KETV special production.

Next week's GATEWAY will will be a joint effort of the present staff and the spring GATEWAY staff. It will be out on Friday as usual.

CO-ED OF THE WEEK

Our first co-ed of the new year, Kathy Bowman, is right at home on the bowling lanes. Earlier this week the pretty Junior rolled a 206 game while captaining her team.

Kathy is taking 16 hours this semester, majoring in business while serving as the secretary of the junior class; the secretary of Orchessis, the assistant rush chairman for Chi Omega sorority, and belonging to Phi Chi Theta, the business women's honorary. She also plans to get a teaching certificate and instruct on the secondary level.

This is not the first honor for Kathy, she was one of the ten best dressed women on campus, the Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl and a semi-finalist in this year's Tomhawk beauty contest.

EDITORIAL VOICE

There has been a suggestion, and a strong one we hope, that the faculty of this institution be required to submit copies of each final exam to the deans of the colleges. The deans will then have a file, kept probably in the library, open for use as learning devices.

In our opinion, this would be an excellent move. We're tired of seeing profs that come up with the same exam one year after the next. Mainly because everyone does not have access to these exams, generally just a few.

What is worse is seeing these clowns who have never exerted much more effort than a slovenly cat after a crippled mouse get just as good a grade or better than the honest student.

We're not going to school just to get grades, but hopefully to learn how to live once we get out into the hard cruel world.

Well, the person who tried — honestly studied — is going to suffer to some extent till he or she is graduated (which usually happens to those who study and make it on their own). After graduation, it's the short-cut crew that is in trouble as long as "daddy" can't provide them with handouts.

It's going to be a little more work for teachers to come up with different tests each semester, but for the sake of a few, why should the majority be discriminated against.

LETTER TO THE EDITORS

Dear Editor:

Since September the Alpha, Kappa Delta Sociology Honor Society and Sociology Club has been very active on campus. During October and November the AKD Sociology Club held several well attended meetings of broad interest. Only one of these meetings was reported in The Gateway. The officers and members felt somewhat slighted but were inclined to overlook this oversight because they realized that there are a multitude of campus organizations meeting daily.

On December 17th, however, AKD holds its Winter Initiation Banquet. The Gateway was advised of this event several times. But still there was no advanced publicity, nor was there a write-up of the event in the issue following the banquet.

This is an unforgiveable sin. The banquet, held at the Silver Lining Restaurant, was attended by 20 AKD Candidates and fifty-five guests.

The main address of the evening was presented by Dr. James M. Reinhardt, Dean Emeritus of the School of Criminology, Nebraska University. Dr. Reinhardt is the author of nine books and seventy professional articles and is a world renowned scholar in the field of criminal psychology.

On January 15, AKD, in cooperation with the Sociology Departments of Omaha U. and St. Mary's College, is sponsoring the visit of another outstanding scholar, Dr. Elio D. Monachesi.

1964 Omaha U Faculty Art Show Now Hanging In Student Center

by Mark Hallgren

One of the best art shows ever to be held on the Omaha University campus opened Monday night in the Student Center.

The Annual Faculty Art Show is now hanging in room 311 for all to see. And see it you should. It is a very impressive display of the excellent work that the art dept. faculty is doing.

Almost immediately after I walked into the show, my attention was drawn to a beautiful abstract painting by Peter Hill. "Flowers And Table" is painted mostly in shades of Blue. There are only traces of greens and reds.

My favorite picture of the whole show is J. V. Blackwell's "Louis". A man that seems to be a matador stands glowering at all that pass. The figure possesses great strength and a character of his own. The painting is very dark and somewhat stylized.

Thomas Majeski does credit to himself and his former teachers with his print "Self Portrait". He makes excellent use of color and the craftsmanship that went into this print is outstanding.

"The Wind Shall Cast Thy Seed" is the title of Tom Palmerton's best work. This painting of a partial farm scene stands in a class by itself. It is simply beautiful. As an illustration of the painter's craft the work is again excellent. The picture, an actual representation of a wind swept farm, makes very good use of depth.

Miss Jane Anderson's most appealing work is entitled "Cactus De Mejiro", a water color. It is an intriguing picture of a cactus.

It will indeed be a shame, almost a crime, for anyone to miss this show. The quality of work, as I have said, is outstanding. These faculty artists have to rank among the best in the Mid-West and possibly in the country.

O U Top Debaters Meet Together Regularly Outside Of Classroom

"The great debate" might be an apt title for any domestic dispute between future husband and wife Stan Zwerling and Roni Meyer.

At the University of Omaha, Stan is top male debater and Roni is tops in the female field. They plan to be married this summer following Stan's graduation.

Debate and speech are apparently "a way of life" for the two, since they have placed first or second in every field of the intramural speaking contests. Both got into debate by "accident." Stan was "roped in by a teacher at South." Formerly a champion wrestler, an injury kept Stan sidelined. "I guess debating displaced wrestling for me, since I enjoy man to man combat. Debate now fills the bill." Roni joined the O.U. debaters "partly because of Stan. The team also needed another girl, so they called on me."

The couple met at O.U. during Roni's freshman year, when they had "a couple of classes together."

Trips to speech contests and debate tournaments average about 10 per year and take them as far as Colorado and Texas. This year, Stan tied for first place in a tournament at the University of Colorado. Most recently, as a delegate from OU, he represented the IBM Company in a Rochester, Minnesota seminar.

Their interest in speech carries over to after school jobs. Both are in saleswork at local department stores. Roni says speech "definitely helps at work. It is also useful in studies and in every field imaginable, since you learn how to hear things."

Graduate school is the next step for both. Roni will graduate after this year's summer session and plans to get a masters degree in sociology.

Stan will aim for a master's in speech and debate.

At OU, both are members of Alpha Kappa Delta, sociology honorary. Stan is president and Roni, vice-president of Pi Kappa Delta, speech honorary. She is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I CAN ALWAYS SPOT A FRATERNITY MAN AT ONE OF OUR OPEN HOUSES — THEY SEEM TO MAKE FRIENDS SO QUICKLY."

Recent contributions and purchases of valuable equipment plus over 800 square feet of newly completed studio and equipment space have greatly increased the potential for instruction and campus service in the Omaha University campus radio and television department in room G-13 of the Applied Arts building.

Mr. Paul Borge, head of the Radio-TV department, said that thousands of dollars worth of equipment have been contributed to the department by local television station KMTV along with money spent from university funds. Among the new equipment are new monitors, overhead flood scoops, amplifiers, power packs and a camera zoom lens.

Chi Omega held its annual dinner-dance December 23 at the Blackstone Hotel ballroom. Phyllis Faasse was in charge of the event, given for the members of the sorority and their dates.

"Carol of the Bells" was the theme. Entertainment was provided by the Chi Omega Singers and a combo.

A pre-party was hosted by the Misses Billie and Jo Poulson.

Assistants were Sarah Edwards, Julie Iverson, Livy Bergman, and Sheri Hronek.

Monachesi Talks To Soc. Groups

"Causes of Juvenile Delinquency" will be the topic discussed by Dr. Elio D. Monachesi, Sociology Head at Minnesota University, on January 15.

The talk by Monachesi will be an open meeting in Mr. Vogt's Social Problems course at 10:30.

Dr. Monachesi will also speak on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in room 101 of the Applied Arts building. The open session will be in conjunction with Dr. Vatro Murvar's Sociology classes.

Dr. Monachesi will appear through the Distinguished Scholar Program and is financed by the American Sociological Association. Monachesi has written several books, among them he co-authored "Analyzing and Predicting Juvenile Delinquency with the MMPI," with Mr. Stark Hathaway.

AKD Initiates 22 At Soc. Banquet

Alpha Kappa Delta initiated twenty-two students at a recent meeting at the Silver Lining Room. As main speaker at the dinner, Dr. James M. Reinhardt, criminologist at Nebraska University, related antecedents of conversations with young murderers. He is currently writing a social study of twenty young killers in the United States.

An overall B average and twelve hours of Sociology were the requirements met by the new initiates. Latest additions to the sociology honorary society are Annabelle Abbott, Jackson Anderson, James S. Craik, Jr., Edward J. Carlin, Robert Doty, William E. Elliot, Irene Gotsdiner, Carla Hansen, Terrence Hays, Earl E. Ijas, Edward Johnson, Jill Kelly, John Langley, Jackson Luckett, William Naslund, Donald Nugent, Roger Pearson, Gerald Puntney, Gilbert Reiland, Raymond Reusche, George Sheppard and Thomas Sugrison.

Other speakers at the dinner were: Dr. George Helling, head of the Sociology department, Dr. Earl T. Sullenger, former head of the Sociology department, and Dr. Vatro Murvar, associate professor of sociology.

AF Drill Team Begins Practice

Omaha University's AFROTC Drill Team has begun practice for the University of Illinois Invitational Drill meet.

Sabre Commander Cadet 2nd Lt. William P. Applegate said he will begin "extra practice in mid-February, but for right now we are working on our techniques."

Cadet Applegate went on to say that double practices are scheduled to begin in the beginning of March. The meet will be held on March 13 and 14.

He added, "All 35 of the men on the team will attend the affair held at Champaign, Illinois."

Bill Campbell Is Zeta's Coolest Man

Bill Campbell, Theta Chi, was named Zeta's Coolest Man at the annual Fantasy in Frost held Dec. 20 in the SC Ballroom.

Bill was elected by an all-Greek vote at the dance presented by Zeta Tau Alpha.

Other candidates for Coolest Man were: Wayne Backes, O Club; Lloyd Cardwell, Delta Rho Gamma and Harry Dotson, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Mark Hallgren, Pi Kappa Alpha; Dave Richardson, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Bob Siebler, Sigma Phi Epsilon were also candidates.

The Cimarrons played for the dance and during intermission, the "Cellar Dwellers", a folk singing group, entertained.

Social Chairman, Jan Thompson was in charge. Patty Goldapp, Sue Cunningham and Kathy Fentress were her assistants.

Balloons released at the kickoff at the Homecoming Football game were filled and distributed by the members of the Journalism Department.

1964: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we go into 1964, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1954 which ends with the Figure 4. Of course, when it comes to Figure 4's, 1964, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1444 which, most people agree, had not just one, not just two, but three Figure 4's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least a thousand years!

1444 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties connected with a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find Lake Michigan is attached to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are attached to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is attached to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. Put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British costermonger who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you must agree, would not help make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenixians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world?

I feel sure that if you search your hearts, you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-infested Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1964, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How, you ask, can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine flavorful blend of tobaccos, that clean efficient Selectrate filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each puff, each cigarette, each pack, each carton, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

Therefore, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1964. May good fortune attend our ventures! May serenity reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!

Washburn To Try For OU Scalp on Sat.

The Indian cagers will try to go above the .500 mark in CIC play when they tangle with Washburn's Ichabods at the Omaha fieldhouse Saturday night. Jim Borsheim's men will be trying to improve on their 7-5 record as they go against the current co-leaders of the conference.

Washburn's conference win was an overtime thriller over Ft. Hays, a team which the Indians clubbed in their first CIC win of the season.

Tuesday night the Indians play host to the other CIC leader when Pittsburg's Gorillas come to Omaha for an 8:00 p.m. fracas.

The basketball team had its ups and downs over the holidays as they won one of three in competition at the Hastings Holiday Tournament, won their first CIC test this year and dropped another in a regularly scheduled contest.

Hays Big Win

The highlight of the two weeks schedule for the Indians came last Saturday as they staged a come-from-behind victory at Hays Kansas against a stubborn Fort Hays team. The 85-82 squeaker came through heads up play in the closing two and a half minutes.

Hastings Tougher

Hastings proved to be tougher than Hays as they tied the hands of Omaha with a 81-63 win.

The Hastings club hit 50 per cent from the field in the last half after leading by 29-24 at the half.

Hastings Tournament

The team met stiff competition in Hastings for three days after Christmas. They managed to salvage a seventh place out of eight teams when they took Southern (S. D.) State 79-65. Morningside had beaten the Omaha squad 92-69 in the second game and Mankato of Minnesota had taken them 87-71 in the opener.

'Faculty Five' Cage Debut Tonight In Charity Fracas With Students

Tonight at 8:00 the "Faculty Five" basketball team, captained by Dr. Aldrich Paul will meet a handpicked crew from each organization on campus. The game will highlight a three event card in the fieldhouse.

Pi Kaps and Sig Eps will play for the interfraternity championship at 6:00. Following the faculty-student game there will be a sock-hop on the basketball floor.

A combo will provide music and all proceeds from the event will go to the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Scholarship Fund. Admission is 50 cents.

One team remains with an unblemished record in league #1 during the current Intramural Basketball campaign. The Darts at 5-0 are the undisputed leaders with the Zekes and Pi Kaps close behind at 4-1.

An identical story holds for League #2 with the Fugitives standing alone with a 6-0 tally. Tied for runner-up are the Cherubs and Bootstrappers with 5-1. League #3 has two undefeated teams thus far into the season, the Eagles stand on top of the league at 6-0 while the Lit Pikes are second with 5-0.

All teams in each of the three leagues will be entered in the '64 Intramural tournament scheduled for some time in February, the dates are to be announced later.

TKE has dethroned Bootstrapper #1 from top spot in Intramural Bowling. The Boots held that position for more than a month. The TKE team composed of McMichael, Richardson, Hansen and Coren holds a record of 44½-7½ while the Boots have faltered to a 42-10 tally.

Bootstrapper #3 completes the top trio with a 38-14 record, from there the competition falls off sharply.

J. Jerabek holds the high individual series and the high individual game with a 713 and a 268 respectively. High team series is held by Bootstrapper #1 with a 2,308, the Boots also hold the high team game at 862.

The '63 edition of Intramural Wrestling is history with the Sig Eps again capturing the title.

Results:

123 pounds—Mike Mannon (Sig Eps) pinned Joe Smelt (Pi Kap) in 1:15.
130 lb—Match has not been held between Dick Botorff (Sig Eps) and Neil Knochlein (Lambda Chi).
147 lb—Chris Krush (unaffiliated) decisioned Tom Ridley (Lambda Chi).
167 lb—Mike Moore (Pi Kap) pinned Don Gebbert (Pi Kap) in 1:40.
177 lb—Tom Risk (Sig Ep) pinned Marlin Mull (Sig Ep) in 5:36.
191 lb—Jim Rauch won by forfeit over Dennis Hill (Theta Chi).
Heavyweight—Tom Luby (Pi Kap) pinned Mike Clark (Lambda Chi) in 3:13.

Wrestlers To Face Ft. Hays Tomorrow

Tomorrow Indian matmen will return to home territory for a six o'clock meeting with Ft. Hays.

The unofficial wrestling championship of the Central Intercollegiate Conference will be at stake since they are the only schools fielding mat teams.

The Indians are returning to the field house for the first time in three weeks since a 29-2 loss to Adams State (Colo.). Coach Don Benning said that most of his squad should be ready barring any unforeseen injuries.

Karate At OU

"Ouch"

A touch of the oriental art of Karate highlighted the Nebraska Karate Association's demonstration Wednesday night in the field house.

Eighteen members of the group ranging in age from 12 to 38 participated. Performing with them was Mr. Haeng Ung Yi a fourth degree black belt and the All-Korea Karate champion of 1962. He is the senior instructor of the association.

Basic warm-up motion, one and three step sparring and breaking boards were features of the demonstration.

Professor Richard Nicholson of the Industrial Testing and Psychology department who is a member of the group presided as master of ceremonies.

Pete Honored Again

Big Jack Petersen, by now familiar with post season polls, was Tuesday picked for another honor for his efforts on the gridiron. The Williamson Rating Service of Houston, Texas, picked Jack as All-American for small colleges in their survey. The survey is inclusive of publicity people and coaches.

Fullback Wayne Backes was voted honorable mention by the Williamson survey.

This honor is added to Jack's list of Associated Press' Small College All-American, the N.A. I.A. All-American and All-CIC honors for two years.

VESTED INTEREST IN HERRINGBONE

This fashion and the weave of the wool have a long history of success. Men of distinction have always included at least one herringbone suit with matching vest in their personal wardrobes. Gentlemen of the sixties should do likewise.
